

All about me and my village – Geography

Mawnan Smith village
 Located 3 miles out of Falmouth, Mawnan Smith is a pretty little crossroads village with thatched cottages and inn. The village itself has an attractive 15th century church which overlooks the mouth of the Helford River. In times of war the church tower provided a useful lookout post, its position also made it a useful daymark for sailors. It is thought the Smith part of the name is derived from the fact that being on a relatively busy crossroads the town had four blacksmiths at one time tending to the passing pack horses.

Vocabulary:
 Mawnan Smith
 Cornwall
 Local Nearby
 Road
 Lanes
 Streets
 Right
 Left
 Behind
 Route
 Symbols

Grove hill road

Memorial hall

St Michael's church

AWNA coffee shop

Mawnan preschool

Mawnan School

The Old Smithy

The Red Lion pub

Goldmartin garage